MALAHIDE

WELCOME TO YOUR SERENE SANCTUARY

TRANQUIL LIVING

At Hollybrook, we are driven by a passion for creativity and sustainability and seeking to transform the way we think about our home, by offering a fresh perspective on residential living. Community is at the core of our homes and we were attracted to the charm and convenience of Malahide, with its excellent schools, a variety of sports clubs, cafe-lined streets, eateries, the marina, and all the surrounding natural beauty. It has something for everyone, from young professionals, families and nature enthusiasts alike.

At Auburn Woods, we have created something truly different, merging aesthetic beauty with functionality, and a vibrant neighbourhood, redefining what a home should be. It is tranquil living.

HISTORY & LOCATION

The premium properties at Auburn Woods are located in a stunning setting in the wooded grounds of Auburn House, next to Malahide Castle, and within a few minutes' walk of Malahide village centre with its many boutiques and amenities.

Auburn House, one of the finest residences in Ireland, was built in the 18th century, and Malahide Castle dates back to the late 12th century when it was built by the Talbot family whose descendents called it home for over 800 years. Today it provides a majestic backdrop to the village, set in 260-acre gardens that are home to a fabulous botanic garden, a world-class cricket ground, a sports pavilion with golf, tennis and basketball courts, and Avoca café.

SPORTING ACTIVITIES

Malahide is a top destination for lovers of the outdoors with a plethora of top-class clubs and sports facilities. The 27-hole golf course is international standard, the cricket pitch is home to Ireland's cricket team, and the busy marina is the only full-service facility in the area. Added to this are Malahide Tennis Club, Malahide Rugby Club, St Sylvester's GAA club, and Malahide United Football club.

The sailing club, watersports centre and yacht club are popular with visitors and locals, as is the Malahide Castle Sports Pavilion with its pitch and putt course, tennis and basketball courts, and coaching.

Dublin Airport (DUB) is the largest airport in Ireland. You can fly to 193 destinations, here are a handful to choose from.

EDUCATION

From the very first steps in education through to secondary school, Malahide offers a wide choice of well-established schools enabling children to be educated in the local community from pre-school to secondary level.

For younger children there’s lots of choice, as Malahide has two Montessori schools and five primary schools.

The popular co-educational Malahide Community School (Pobalscoil Iosa) for pupils of all religious denominations is the main secondary school in the area, with other options in neighbouring Sutton, Swords and Portmarnock.

With the DART line station nearby the many prestigious private schools in Dublin are also easily accessible.

BUSINESS & INVESTMENT

Ireland is well known for its investment-friendly policies and attractive tax regime, and is a leading location for R&D thanks to generous tax credits. Multinationals from the US, UK, and Europe have made major investments, including R&D projects in the pharma, biotech, ICT and financial services sectors.

Ireland has long-standing business, political and personal links to the US, and Brexit strengthened its already strong appeal to European countries. Dublin has the only airport in Europe that offers US pre-clearance, facilitating hassle-free travel.

Dublin is a modern metropolitan capital, with a rich culture, highly educated English-speaking workforce, and long-established infrastructure, and today it's home to numerous tech, financial services and pharma companies,

Many of America's tech giants have made Dublin the centre of their European operations.

A SERENE SANCTUARY

WELCOME HOME

Bounded by historic woodlands and surrounded by beautiful, landscaped gardens, the residences at Auburn Woods set new standards for luxury living.

Designed to provide seclusion and privacy in thoughtfully designed high-quality homes, this exclusive new neighbourhood has a timeless quality, providing a welcome retreat and a serene sanctuary from the stresses of everyday life.

At Auburn Woods you can live close to nature, embrace the outdoors, and explore the 12.5 acres of open space, including 3.4 acres of protected woodland connected by new green routes and rediscovered historic pathways.

Auburn Woods has an abundance of shared outdoor space, ranging from the historic avenue of mature trees that provides the main pedestrian and cyclist route into the site, to the beautifully restored one-acre walled garden, and the large open expanse of the east paddock at the centre of the development.

There are also several pocket parks and two well-equipped children's play areas with new planting – some of the 1,000 new indigenous trees planted throughout the landscaped grounds.

The historic walled garden with its mature trees is a serene sensory space and the perfect spot to relax and unwind.

SUSTAINABILITY

Auburn Woods has excellent sustainability credentials, with a focus on considered design conservation and improvement of the ecologically diverse setting.

The development respects the sensitive nature of the site and includes significant enhancement to the public realm, with the provision of accessible green spaces.

The planting retains existing hedgerows and trees, and promotes biodiversity by introducing a palette of native wildflowers, hedge and tree species. To encourage walking and cycling the grounds are criss-crossed by pathways and green links, the streets have been designed to calm traffic, and many areas are off-limits to vehicles.

The materials, heating and drainage systems in the homes have been selected to optimize sustainability and energy efficiency. These include sustainable timber frames, sedum roofs, air-source heat pumps. LED lighting, and wiring for EV car charging.

ARCHITECTURE & DESIGN

Auburn Woods has a distinctive character, with the landscaping and architecture informed by its context, and the design and materials sympathetic to the surrounding built environment. The homes are varied to meet the diverse requirements of residents, with numerous 2, 3 and 4 bedroom house types across the development, and a range of 1, 2 and 3 bedroom lateral apartments and duplexes.

The material palette across the development, designed to weather gracefully over time, includes muted ochre-brick to complement the earthy yellow render of Auburn House, stylish grey aluminium picture windows that frame the garden and woodland views, and a combination of pitched slate roofs and sedum green roofs.

DEVELOPER

HOLLYBROOK

HOLLYBROOK - ONE OF IRELAND’S FINEST
DEVELOPMENT COMPANIES

TRACK RECORD

Hollybrook is a private family-owned development and construction company, focusing on high quality, bespoke residential and commercial developments.

The business was founded in 1987 in London by an Irish family and has grown to become a well-established developer in the UK and, more recently, Ireland. We have considerable experience, not just in new-build projects, but also in the restoration and refurbishment sector, having successfully completed many diverse and challenging projects. Hollybrook builds all its own developments and has a 30 year track record of constructing high quality major residential and mixed-use schemes.

The company is passionate about construction build-quality and has been awarded many NHBC Awards over the past 15 years. We have also won the NHBC Seal of Excellence on our last five developments. Less than 1 in 1000 developments achieve this award.
